

The Jacob Robinson Institute for the History of Individual and Collective Rights cordially invites the public to a workshop on

Responding to Suffering: Sources and Approaches in the History of Humanitarianism and Human Rights

Thursday, June 15, 2023

Mount Scopus Campus, Maiersdorf Faculty Club, Room 503

Photo Credit: Abraham Pisarek, Deutsche Fotothek, Creative Commons

13:45 Reception

14:00 Greetings: Iris Nachum, Jacob Robinson Institute

Panel 1: Jewish Humanitarianism and Visual Narratives

Chair: Jonathan Grossman,
Jacob Robinson Institute

Michal Ben Ya'akov, Bar Ilan University/
Efrata College

A Gaze on the Other: JDC Photos of Post-World War II Work in Morocco

Rebekka Grossmann, Jacob Robinson Institute

Symbols of Aid: Humanitarian Visual Codes in the UNRRA Archives

Julia Schulte-Werning, University of Vienna

Milk for the Mellah: Commodities, Infant Feeding, and Jewish Humanitarian Networks

15:30 Break

15:50 Panel 2: Networks of Solidarity and Expertise

Chair: Manuela Consonni, The Hebrew University

Oded Steinberg, The Hebrew University

Minorities Aiding Minorities? Anglo-Jewish Response to Armenian Suffering in the Late Victorian Era

Liat Kozma / Benny Nuriely, The Hebrew University

The WHO and the Challenge of Palestinian Refugees, 1948–1950

16:50 Break

17:00 Panel 3: Humanitarianism and the Nation

Chair: Anne Rethmann, Jacob Robinson Institute

Eran Shlomi, Jacob Robinson Institute

Zionist Diplomacy at the League of Nations in the Wake of the Nazi Rise to Power in Germany

Rotem Giladi, Jacob Robinson Institute

War Funds – Contributions from Natives: Empire, Race, and Humanitarianism in the South African War (1899–1902)